

G. O. P. MANAGER IN PRE-ELECTION STATEMENT EXPRESSES CONFIDENCE

E. P. Fogarty, campaign manager of the Republicans, predicts a victory for his party tomorrow if the Republicans stand by the entire ticket, but points to the alleged dangers and results bound to follow if there is any general splitting in the fourth district.

"The success of the Republican campaign depends entirely on the absence of any general splitting of the ticket," he said this morning.

"There is no reason why every candidate on the Republican ticket should not be elected tomorrow by a safe majority, if the voters do not shirk their duty. But if the vote is split and there is much splitting, the outlook is not pleasing."

"The campaign has been short, but the field has been well covered and the voter has had ample opportunity to pass on the relative merits of all the candidates and the party back of them."

"Careful students of figures and those concerned with the best welfare of Honolulu, point out the danger of ticket-splitting, and it will be well to keep their advice in mind tomorrow."

"The danger of a split ticket—especially in this community—lies in the fact that the men deemed absolutely safe are the ones who fall."

"I most earnestly implore every Republican voter on the island to stand by the straight Republican ticket from top to bottom. In this way—and only in this way—will we succeed tomorrow."

MAYOR LANE SEES REPUBLICAN VICTORY

"The prospects of my reelection seem very bright today and I also expect that all the other Republican candidates will be put into office," said Mayor Lane this morning.

"The present Republican administration has given the city and county of Honolulu far and away a better government and more permanent improvements than any other board. Under the provisions of our platform and with the greatly increased revenue which the new board will have, the people may be assured that if a Republican board is elected, headed by a Republican mayor, Honolulu will have greater prosperity than ever before."

BOURBONS SURE OF SUCCESS AT FINAL ELECTION

Last Campaign Rally to Be Held at 7:30 Tonight at Aala Park

TONIGHT'S MEETING

The final Democratic general campaign rally will be held at Aala Park at 7:30 o'clock this evening. Aside from the candidates there will be other speakers, including L. L. McCandless and W. A. Bryan.

With the general election but a few hours away, Democratic candidates are confident of securing a strong foothold in the city and county government for the next two years. They are confident that Charles H. Rose will beat "Eddie" Hopkins for sheriff, and that Joseph J. Fern will be the next mayor of Honolulu, and even more confident that every member of the next board of supervisors will be a Bourbon.

As "Link" McCandless put it today: "We've got this election if they don't buy us out before tomorrow morning, and by 'they' he meant the Republicans. McCandless thinks the Republicans are out to 'split up the Democratic vote' and in this attempt, he asserts, they are advocating this ticket of supervisors: Achi, Ahia, Arnold, Kanae, Markham, and Uluhi. No seventh supervisor is mentioned."

"We want the straight Democratic vote and no split ticket," says the Bourbon leader. "If we can't get this election honestly, we won't want it at all."

According to the way it has been "doped" out at Democratic headquarters, Rose will beat Hopkins by 1000 votes and Fern will be ahead of Lane to the tune of about 500 ballots.

"We expect to elect every Democratic supervisor," they claim at headquarters, "if the Democrats stand by the straight ticket and do not split."

Last night the Democrats met at Waianae and on Saturday toured the island.

KAHUKU WELCOMES CANDIDATES OF G. O. P.

Kahuku and the surrounding country turned out as a whole Saturday evening to welcome the Republican candidates and a rousing reception was accorded the party representatives. Mayor John Lane and Edward Hopkins, candidate for sheriff, were received with generous applause.

"Vote the straight Republican ticket" was the principal appeal of the candidates and the opposition to progressive improvements which they said has characterized the Democratic party in the past was emphasized. Mayor Lane spoke on the policies which he would enforce if elected. He denied that the Republican administration had been extravagant. Charles Arnold took the belt road as his subject and told how the Republicans had secured from the legis-

G. O. P. ARRANGES ITS FINAL RALLY

The following will speak at the big final Republican rally at Aala park this evening commencing at 7:30.

Candidates—Mayor John C. Lane, Edward Hopkins, for sheriff; James Bicknell for auditor; and William C. Achi, William Ahia, Charles H. Arnold, Charles H. Bellina, Ben Hollinger, Daniel Logan and E. A. Mott-Smith, for supervisors.

Other speakers—George Davis, C. M. Olson, Lorin Andrews, A. L. Castle, W. T. Rawlins, A. M. Brown, Harry Murray, D. L. Conkling, David Kalaokalani, G. Keaweakahu, Albert Kaiwe, Samuel Kallinai and William Hoogs. Robert W. Shingle will be the chairman.

This evening on the grandstand at Aala park the Republican candidates for municipal offices will meet to ask the people for their support for the last time before the election tomorrow.

At headquarters today a feeling of confidence prevails among the candidates and workers and it is the general belief of the party workers that the straight Republican ticket will go through. It is practically conceded now that Mayor Lane and Auditor Bicknell will be reelected.

The fight between Mr. Hopkins and Mr. Rose for sheriff is much closer, but since the primary election the former has steadily gained in strength. The Hawaiian band will play this evening and besides the candidates well known Republicans will boost for the party.

sixth and seventh precincts of the fourth will do tomorrow.

On the eve of election, a multitude of "singles" have blossomed forth. Some are straight Republican, some straight Democratic, a number are split ticket. Campaign managers on both sides, say, however, that most of these singles will have little effect on the voting.

The voting booths are in the same locations as at the primary campaign and the hours are the same—8 a. m. to 5 p. m.

One half million dollars for this work.

Sunday, Waianae, Ewa and way points were also visited and the returning candidates last night reported that enthusiasm for the Republican party was also running high at these places.

HATHARINE GOODSON IS CALLED "PADEREWSKI IN PETTICOATS" SOMETIMES

Katharine Goodson, the distinguished pianist, who arrived in Honolulu a few days ago and who will give the first of two piano recitals on Wednesday evening next at the Mission Memorial Hall, is mentioned as "one of the truly great ones" in the valuable work which recently appeared "Great Pianists on Piano Playing," by James Francis Cooke. Her art represents inherited talent, thorough schooling and that simplicity which characterizes the vast majority of great personages. During her student days with Leschetizky in Vienna, the volatile Viennese who heard her suspected that she was not of pure English extraction; "such temperament and poetry," they declared, "suggested strains of other blood, transmutations of Celtic, Welsh, or perhaps Latin. But Katharine Goodson soon was entitled 'The Female Paderewski' which appellation is occasionally varied by the jocosse men of the pen to read 'A Paderewski in Petticoats.'"

GRIM REAPER TAKES BIG TOLL AMONG CHILDREN UNDER 5

Statistics issued today from the board of health office for the month of May show that during that period there were a total of 234 births in Honolulu. Deaths totalled 122 and there were 74 marriages.

Of those who died during the month 74 were males and 48 females. By nationalities the deaths included the following: American, 14; Chinese, 14; Filipino, 4; Hawaiian, 35; Japanese, 30; part-Hawaiian, 12; Portuguese, 6; Russian, 2; Spanish, 1; others, 3.

Tuberculosis led the list of deaths with 22 to its credit. Bronchopneumonia took 13, heart disease, 6; Bright's disease, 5; and cancer, 4. Three persons were accidentally drowned, one died of apoplexy and six of various and enteritis.

The number of deaths among children less than five years of age was remarkable during the month, a total of 42 being reported. This was almost 35 per cent of the total.

WARRIORS OF JAPAN'S NAVY CALL ON THE GOVERNOR

The army will be used for dancing on the night of the reception. Reception for Visitors

Tomorrow the official visits will be returned, the Japanese midshipmen will visit the Japanese High school, in the afternoon there will be a reception at the consulate general, and at night an entertainment at Tokiwa-en.

Wednesday morning the officers and midshipmen will visit Waiawa pine-apple cannery and Waiawa plantation, and at night the Pan-Pacific Club will entertain the midshipmen with a Hawaiian night program.

The squadron arrived Sunday morning, coming here direct from San Pedro, Southern California. It left Yokohama April 8 on its cruise and is now on its way back to the Yokosuka naval station, near Yokohama, whence the cruise began.

According to Lieut. Nobutaro Hachiya, I. J. N., of the Tokiwa, each cruiser has a complement of 700 men, including officers and crew. Each cruiser has 60 officers and 50 midshipmen. The midshipmen will be graduated from the Japanese Naval College on the island of Etajima, near Kure, in December, and will then become ensigns on Japanese naval vessels.

The present cruise is part of the course of training prescribed for the last year of the three years' training given at the Annapolis of Japan. It calls for a cruise of four months in waters near Japan, four months in waters away from Japan (the present cruise), and four months of practical experience aboard Japanese war vessels until December, when they get their commissions as ensigns.

Rear Admiral Iwamura has been a rear admiral for four years. Prior to that time he was commander of the cruiser Azuma, which stopped at this port recently en route to San Francisco bearing the body of the late Ambassador to Japan George W. Guthrie, to the United States.

The squadron has steamed from Japan to Esquimaut, B. C., to Vancouver, back to Esquimaut, to San Francisco, to San Pedro, and thence to Honolulu.

Rear Admiral Iwamura at the siege of Tsingtao won distinguished honors. He was the first Japanese commandant of that port after its capture by the Japanese forces.

Thousands of Japanese thronged the waterfront all day Sunday, visiting the cruisers. When they arrived off port they were soon surrounded by a fleet of sampans, every one filled to capacity with Japanese greeting the visiting war vessels. Many visitors also went on board today.

A committee of four attorneys appointed by Judge Harry Irwin, the new district magistrate, met with the judge Saturday afternoon to discuss possible rules and regulations which may expedite cases in police court and as a result of the meeting the judge announced today that he will shortly draw up a new set of rules as suggested by the committee. They will be formulated shortly. The committee was composed of Attorneys William Rawlins, Leon M. Straus, George K. French and J. M. Camara.

NO HARANGUING VOTERS NEAR POLLS; POLICE RULE

Sheriff Charles H. Rose stopped long enough this morning in the last breathless whirl of his campaign for reelection to tell what regulations on elections are so far as the police are concerned.

"The chief rule to observe," he says, "is to confine all political speeches to a distance of 100 feet from the polls."

Neither should any voter be interfered with or harassed on his way to the voting booth. However, there is no objection to distributing candidates' cards at the polls, so far as I know. The sheriff remarked that distributing of liquor to voters is absolutely prohibited.

Three men were instantly killed when a trolley car struck an automobile on Prospect street in Pawtuck a distance of 100 feet from the polls, etc.
